HEAVEN ON EARTH

U NO! Cries out sister Marilu, showing triumphantly the only card in her hand. The kids around the table are looking with concern at their deck, planning on a strategy to load sister with more cards before the final round. All other kids and adults are playing board games or chit-chatting with a warm cup of coffee in their hands. Outside the big family reunion cabin, it's raining, but in the living room, there is so much joy that it looks like a sunny day.

We are at the YMCA of the Rockies for the vacation of one of the JP II Families groups named after St. Maximilian Kolbe: six couples, twenty-five kids between 1 and 23 years old, two sisters, and one priest.

The schedule of the day is simple: breakfast and morning prayers. An easy hike to Bible Point, where we walk together and help each other overcome the uneven terrain. Mass in the woods, with a big stone as an altar, surrounded by the mountains still capped in snow. A quick lunch put together by the moms, a quiet afternoon with games for the kids, and finally, a bonfire with s'mores for everyone.

Why did we take the time to spend a weekend with other families in the same house? It is enough for me to see the joy of the kids playing together to know that we are made for friendship and communion. We rejoice when we can share our life with others. For the little ones, that means playing games or exploring the cabin's surroundings, searching for bugs or wildlife. For teenagers, it is enough to hang out together, pretending to be uninterested but—in reality—observing everything. With one eye, they look at the little ones and with the other at the adults, trying to figure out where they belong now. For the adults, it's a time for storytelling, recalling their youth and families. It's their way of giving thanks to the Lord for the many blessings they received over the years.

I read somewhere, "The little things of every day are the place where God calls you to love him with all your heart, all your mind, and all your strength." This is what happened during our vacation. We did the same little things we usually do at home, like making breakfast or playing games. But being together as a parish group, praying and attending the daily Mass together, the presence of a priest and the Sisters, brought an awareness of God's presence that is usually missing. A time together, away from our business and our homes, re-centers our attention to the presence of the Lord in every little thing. A weekend like the one we lived together in Estes Park is not an evasion from the difficulties of daily life. It's like a retreat when the presence of the Lord transfigures your everyday life, and everything becomes more interesting and meaningful.

A five-year-old boy recently asked me where Heaven is. I asked him back: "Where does God live?" His quick answer was: "Up there," and he pointed to the sky. But then I asked: "Where else is God?" He finally realized that God is everywhere, and therefore Heaven is wherever God is. Regrettably, we often do not see God in our life, and therefore we do not experience any anticipation of Heaven on earth.

The vacation with the families was definitely an experience of Heaven on Earth. We saw the presence of the Lord in our friendship, in the blessing of the life of the kids, and in the growth of the teenagers who enjoyed being part of the group. We saw the Lord in the celebration of outdoor Mass and in preparing dinner together. We came back, like the apostles after Pentecost, not with the longing for a beautiful experience in the past but with the desire to announce to everyone that everything is better with the Lord and the community.

PRAY THE ROSARY

WITH US

SUNDAY, 11:00 AM

Mary's contemplation is above all a remembering. We need to understand this word in the biblical sense of remembrance as a making present of the works brought about by God in the history of salvation. [...] These events not only belong to "yesterday"; they are also part of the "today" of salvation.

— St. John Paul II
Rosarium Virginis Mariae

FROM ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

I always give thanks to my God for you because of the grace he has given you through Christ Jesus. (1 Corinthians 1:4)

We thank Fr. Michael Carvill for his wonderful 14 years of service to Nativity of Our Lord as our pastor. We also wish him many blessings as he goes forward to dedicate himself to the growth of The Communion & Liberation Movement throughout North America.

Fr. Michael is truly a good shepherd. He has encouraged us with his wisdom and insightful homilies. He has been there to offer the Mass and administer the sacraments which bring us nourishment and healing. He has championed Nativity School and its mission to develop young men and women in their educational studies guided by faith and reason. Fr. Michael has also encouraged a vibrant parish that serves and hosts multiple interests and groups – from developing our faith through education and bible studies, social and recreation groups, activities such as Nativity Days, which bring together all ages, as well as multiple service organizations that bring our community the opportunity to turn our Gospel values into action.

“Little ways.” Fr. Michael has told us we would still see him now and then. We hope so. Fr. Michael has been our pastor, but he has also been our friend. Like the Good Shepherd, it would be good now and then to see his smile and hear his voice. We also pray for many blessings on Fr. Emanuele Fadini as he begins his new role as our pastor. | NOOL.FLOCKNOTE.COM/SVDP

SPREAD THE WORD!
2023-2024
ENROLLMENT IS OPEN!

UNTIL THE END OF THE SUMMER

We are still accepting new students for the 2023-2024 School Year until the end of the summer. Please share this news around! With the new classes added over the last two years, we have room to grow. Please share with your friends, family, and neighbors who are looking for a high-quality education rooted in Catholic values.

Nativity: Faith & Reason is the primary ministry of our parish. Serving students in preschool, elementary, and middle school, Nativity: Faith & Reason proposes the fullness of faith within an integrated curriculum, striving for academic, spiritual, artistic, and athletic excellence.

Helping our Children Contemplate the Mystery

To assist reason in its effort to understand the mystery there are the signs which Revelation itself presents. These serve to lead the search for truth to new depths, enabling the mind in its autonomous exploration to penetrate within the mystery by use of reason's own methods, of which it is rightly jealous. Yet these signs also urge reason to look beyond their status as signs in order to grasp the deeper meaning which they bear. They contain a hidden truth to which the mind is drawn and which it cannot ignore without destroying the very signs which it is given.

In a sense, then, we return to the sacramental character of Revelation and especially to the sign of the Eucharist, in which the indissoluble unity between the signifier and signified makes it possible to grasp the depths of the mystery. In the Eucharist, Christ is truly present and alive, working through his Spirit; yet, as Saint Thomas said so well, "what you neither see nor grasp, faith confirms for you, leaving nature far behind; a sign it is that now appears, hiding in mystery realities sublime."

John Paul II, Fides et ratio

FAITH AND REASON

FIDES ET RATIO

Our school is built on the pillars of Faith & Reason, following the guidance of St. John Paul II expressed in the Encyclical Letter, FIDES ET RATIO:

"Faith and reason are like two wings on which the human spirit rises to the contemplation of truth."

DO NOT BE AFRAID

HOMILY OF
HIS HOLINESS
JOHN PAUL II
FOR THE INAUGURATION
OF HIS PONTIFICATE
OCT 22, 1978

"You are the Christ, the Son of the living God" (Mt 16:16). These words were spoken by Simon, son of Jonah, in the district of Caesarea Philippi. Yes, he spoke them with his own tongue, with a deeply lived and experienced conviction—but it is not in him that they find their source, their origin: "...because it was not flesh and blood that revealed this to you but my Father in heaven" (Mt 16:17). They were the words of Faith.

These words mark the beginning of Peter's mission in the history of salvation, in the history of the People of God. From that moment, from that confession of Faith, the sacred history of salvation and of the People of God was bound to take on a new dimension: to express itself in the historical dimension of the Church.

This ecclesial dimension of the history of the People of God takes its origin, in fact is born, from these words of faith, and is linked to the man who uttered them: "You are Peter—the rock—and on you, as on a rock, I will build my Church." [...]

Today the new Bishop of Rome solemnly begins his ministry and the mission of Peter. In this city, in fact, Peter completed and fulfilled the mission entrusted to him by the Lord. The Lord addressed him with these words: "...when you were young you put on your own belt and walked where you liked; but when you grow old you will stretch out your hands and somebody else will put a belt round you and take you where you would rather not go" (Jn 21:18).

What else but obedience to the inspiration received from the Lord guided him and brought him to this city, the heart of the Empire? Perhaps the fisherman of Galilee did not want to come here. Perhaps he would have preferred to stay there, on the shores of the Lake of Genesareth, with his boat and his nets. But guided by the Lord, obedient to his inspiration, he came here!

Our time calls us, urges us, obliges us to gaze on the Lord and immerse ourselves in humble and devout meditation on the mystery of the supreme power of Christ himself. He who was born of the Virgin Mary, the carpenter's Son (as he was thought to be), the Son of the living God (confessed by Peter), came to make us all "a kingdom of priests." [...]

The absolute and yet sweet and gentle power of the Lord responds to the whole depths of the human person, to his loftiest aspirations of intellect, will and heart. It does not speak the language of force but expresses itself in charity and truth.

The new Successor of Peter in the See of Rome, today makes a fervent, humble and trusting prayer: Christ, make me become and remain the servant of your unique power, the servant of your sweet power, the servant of your power that knows no eventide. Make me be a servant. Indeed, the servant of your servants.

Brothers and sisters, do not be afraid to welcome Christ and accept his power. Help the Pope and all those who wish to serve Christ and with Christ's power to serve the human person and the whole of mankind. Do not be afraid. Open wide the doors for Christ. To his saving power open the boundaries of States, economic and political systems, the vast fields of culture, civilization and development. Do not be afraid. Christ knows "what is in man." He alone knows it.

So often today man does not know what is within him, in the depths of his mind and heart. So often he is uncertain about the meaning of his life on this earth. He is assailed by doubt, a doubt which turns into despair. We ask you therefore, we beg you with humility and trust, let Christ speak to man. He alone has words of life, yes, of eternal life.
